Company: Brainlabs

Location: Argentina

Category: arts-design-entertainment-sports-and-media

Brainlabs is a digital media agency – we're passionate about using data and tech to craft marketing strategies that drive real business results for clients. Our 1000+ Brainlabbers partner with some of the world's largest advertisers to do just that.

Our mission is simple, we want to become the world's largest independent media agency, famous for delivering high performance and accelerating the careers of Brainlabbers whilst we're at it.

Brainlabs has always been a culture-first company. In fact, from the very beginnings of the agency a set of shared principles, philosophies and values was documented in The Brainlabs Handbook, helping us create our unique culture.

As with everything here we always seek to adapt and improve so The Brainlabs Handbook has been fine-tuned to become The Brainlabs Culture Code.

This Culture Code consists of 12 codes that talk to what it means to be a Brainlabber. It's a joint commitment to continuous development and creating a company that we can all be proud of, where Brainlabbers can turn up to do great work, make great friends and win together.
