More about us

Our Global Business Center (GBC) in Buenos Aires was established in 2004 and our diverse and multinational workforce of more than 2800 colleagues have been powering ExxonMobil's global businesses ever since. We are proud to be part of an inclusive, safe, and vibrant work environment.

The IT department is seeking new candidates to its dynamic team. The department provides support worldwide to the Organizations all along the value chain from exploration thru site development to production.

What role you will play in our team

The Upstream Unconventional Field SCADA teams deliver industry-leading business capabilities and computational sciences to our field production assets through proprietary, commercial-grade software. In this role, you will participate in all aspects of SCADA Engineering, including work planning, requirements gathering, development, testing, deployment, and ongoing support.

Our office is located in Puerto Madero, Buenos Aires.

What you will do

Responsible for working with a team on development and maintenance of Ignition SCADA systems while creating and implementing integrated corporate-driven standard solutions

Collaborate with engineers, geoscientists, data managers, and other software developers to define, build, and deliver solutions to our most challenging upstream unconventional business problems

Design, implement, and support on-site Ignition HMI applications as well as business based SCADA applications that integrate with our MQTT infrastructure

Work with field teams to design and bring in well site data, salt water disposals, compressor site data, and any field automation into Ignition SCADA systems for alarms, historizing, and display

Interface with various customer and support elements including automation, measurement, engineering, production, operations and plant support, and other IT support staff when necessary

Help field team members troubleshoot communications, application issues and integrations to Ignition and its related data

About you

Bachelor's degree from an accredited university in Electronic/Industrial Engineering, Computer Science or related field of study

Advanced English skills, verbal and written communication

Minimum of 5 years developing, deploying, and supporting SCADA and HMI systems

Fundamental knowledge of automation control systems, control protocols and networking

Proficiency in Python and API development (Ignition APIs, Mulesoft, similar)

Experience working with RTUs (ROC, TotalFlow), PLC's and related HMI hardware and their related software (Allen-Bradley, Modicon, GE)

IT knowledge of Microsoft's server operating systems and applications such as MS SQL Server

Preferred Qualifications/ Experience

Prior work experience in the upstream oil and gas industry

Prior work experience with large scale data management systems (Ignition or WonderWare)

Edge Computing and Azure cloud knowledge is a must

Working knowledge of the Ignition 7.9.x or 8.x platform

Understanding of field radio and network communications is beneficial

Knowledge of field data capture and production accounting systems

MQTT knowledge and experience

Experience working on teams following Agile software development methodologies
