We're building an innovative SaaS platform to drive value in the electronics manufacturing industry. This is a golden opportunity to join the team at an early stage to define and execute on the architecture, but also to build and shape the culture of the team. Position Description & Responsibilities The role responsibilities include: Develop scalable, robust, and highly available Cloud software. Work on the backend microservices using Python and Flask. Design and build frontend software using React. Participate in the software development lifecycle (SDLC) including user requirement analysis, designing and writing new software, testing and final deployment. Exercise mature judgment as to when to move fast and when to build for the future. Work individually and in a team to deliver projects as well as provide product support to others. Collaborate with other functional teams to ensure successful delivery of solutions. Ensure world-class development practices for consistency, reliability, and performance. Qualifications: Bachelor's or Master's degree in Computer Science, Information Systems or a related field; or relevant experience. 5+ years in hands-on development of full stack software solutions. Hands-on experience working in AWS, with preference for experience with high transaction volumes or high availability requirements. AWS RDS, SNS, SQS experience is a plus. Experience with React. Proficiency with modern programming languages (especially Python and frameworks like Flask). Technical expertise in various areas of software engineering and track record of successful complex, and enterprise-scale project delivery. Experience with microservices based software architecture, integrations, and design/integration of APIs. Experience in developing End to End technical architectures and delivery of very large-scale platforms. Experience working with distributed teams (onshore and offshore). Good understanding of OOP, MVC, microservice architecture concepts. Good knowledge of Ajax, JavaScript. Experience with version control (GitHub). Conversant in database design. Experience with containers (Docker) and CICD. Experience with IaaS (Hashicorp Terraform, AWS CloudFormation). Strong communication skills, both written and verbal. Nice to Have: Familiarity with electronics manufacturing, especially PCB assembly. Experience in NodeJs.
