Company: Azumo

Location: Argentina

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Azumo is looking for a highly motivated UX/UI Designer to contribute to the development of original and innovative designs. The ideal candidate should be a highly creative individual with a strong aesthetic eye and a bachelor's degree in a design field. You will delight users with designs that inspire, engage and excite. You will thrive in this role with a “focus on the user” ethos and collegial approach to design and user experience. This position will give you the opportunity to collaborate with a growing team of bright engineering minds in AI computing, conversational software and modern data-driven technologies.

Responsibilities:

Effectively create modern, engaging end-to-end User Experiences

Develop and maintain design wireframes, mockups and specifications as needed

Create and/or maintain the visual integrity of the brand/client

Communicate in a cross-functional team environment

Design campaigns across all platforms including email, homepage and social sites

Create new projects in conjunction with marketing needs and development team

Requirements

Basic Qualifications:

BA/BS in Design, Marketing, Advertising, Communications or related field

2+ years experience as a UI/UX designer

Proficiency in Photoshop, Adobe XD, Sketch Up, mockup tools (like Figma, Balsamiq) and good experience in HTML, CSS and Bootstrap

Familiarity with split testing, feedback surveys and similar UX research skills

Self-driven and motivated, with a strong work ethic and a passion for problem solving

Fluent in English

Preferred Qualifications:

Excellent problem-solving skills and familiarity with technical constraints and limitations as they apply to designing for platforms such as desktop and mobile, Android and iOS.

An ability to act as a leader in communicating conceptual ideas and design rationale within a user-centered design process.

A background in or familiarity with cognitive psychology and/or communications is a huge plus.

Benefits

The UX/UI Designer will be based remotely. Compensation commensurate with experience and candidate potential.

At Azumo we strive for excellence and strongly believe in professional and personal growth. We want each individual to be successful and pledge to help you achieve your goals while at Azumo and beyond. Challenging ourselves and learning new technologies is at the core of what we do.

Based in San Francisco, California, Azumo is an innovative software development firm helping organizations build intelligent apps using the latest technologies in AI, data and cloud. We are passionate about solving key problems for customers around the globe.
